Develop oral vocabulary and grammatical structure	Pupils' vocabulary should be developed when they listen to books read aloud and when they discuss what they have heard. Through listening, pupils also start to learn how language sounds and increase their vocabulary and awareness of grammatical structures.	Develop pupils' oral vocabulary as well as their ability to understand and use a variety of grammatical structures, giving particular support to pupils whose oral language skills are insufficiently developed. Use vocabulary from within their experience to describe thoughts and feelings.	Discuss their favourite words and phrases.	Increase pupils' vocabulary and their awareness of grammar so that they continue to understand the differences between spoken and written language. Draw on and use new vocabulary from their reading, their discussions about it (one –to-one and as a whole class) and from their wider experiences. Develop language and sentence structures to talk about what they think and feel to give their opinion in a range of contexts throughout the day.		Say why they hold a view about a topic or issue. Talk about how and why they have approached a task in a particular way. Engage in discussions and conversations using a widening/interesting vocabulary. Explain information, ideas and opinions clearly.		Continue to add to their knowledge of linguistic terms, including those to describe grammar, so that they can discuss their writing and reading. Justify ideas and opinions. Offer ideas and opinions in a developed way and can offer good reasons for their views. Choose and use the most fitting words and specialised vocabulary or words linked to the context of the task. For example, when discussing poetry, pupils use vocabulary about what they think and feel to give their opinion in a range of contexts				words linked the context of the task. For example, wh discussing poetry, pupi

Retelling stories	Become very familiar with key stories, fairy stories and traditional tales, retelling them and considering their particular characteristics. Recognise and join in with predictable phrases.		Become increasingly familiar with and retelling a wider range of stories, fairy tales and traditional tales.	Retell some familiar stories that have been read to and discussed with them or that they have acted out in Year 1.	Increase their familiarity with a wide range of books, including fairy stories, myths and legends and retelling some of these orally.
Reciting by heart	Learn to appreciate rhymes and poems and to recite some by heart.		Continue to build up a repertoire of poems learnt by heart, appreciating these and reciting some, with appropriate intonation to make the meaning clear.		Prepare poems and playscripts to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone, volume and action.	Read, re-read and rehearse poems and plays for presentation and performance to give opportunities to discuss language, including vocabulary, extending their interest in the meaning and origin of words.	Learn a wider range of poetry by heart.
Discuss word meanings	Discuss word meanings.	Decode words successfully and understand the meaning of those that are new to them will contribute to developing their early skill of inference.	Discuss and clarify the meanings of words, linking new meanings to known vocabulary.		Discuss words and phrases that capture the reader's interest and imagination. Check that the text makes sense to them, discuss their understanding		Check that the book makes sense to them, discuss their understanding and explore the meaning of words in context. Drama, formal presentations, discussion, debate and performance	Get a gist of what is being explained to them. Give an account of what has happened so that others can understand it, for example talk about the places they have visited, people they have met or things they have done. Speak audibly to be heard and understood. Look at someone when they are		Listen to information in familiar situations and show their understanding with a response. Talk in detail and in an order that makes sense, for example when describing how they get ready for school. Talk with sufficient clarity so that others can hear and make sense of what they are saying.	Use drama approaches to understand how to perform plays and poems to support their understanding of the meaning. These activities also provide them with an incentive to find out what expression is required, so feeding into comprehension.	Become more familiar with and confident in using language in a greater variety of audiences and purposes, including through drama, formal presentations and debate. Sequence events and plan what to say so that it has a structure that makes sense to the listener. Plan what they are going to say (if the task requires it), taking account of audience and purpose. Use expression in different situations,	Explain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes where necessary. Provide reasoned justifications.	Pupils' confidence, enjoyment and mastery of language should be extended through public speaking, performance and debate. Organise and order contributions logically so that others can understand their points easily. They present their ideas clearly, giving an introduction and conclusion, when appropriate, for
